

CANEY TO PAWHUSKA LINE

Preswar Highway Project Is Now Revivified by Santa Fe. BARTLESVILLE, Feb. 10.—The work of grading for a 40-mile branch of the Santa Fe railroad extending from Caney, Kan., to Pawhuska, Okla., has been ordered resumed by officials of the road, according to notification received in Bartlesville Thursday. A right-of-way for the branch line was obtained before the war and the work of grading had been started, but was stopped when the government took over the operation of the railroad. As the grade stands at present, most of the bridges are in and the grading had been completed several miles out of Pawhuska. It is reported that grading crews will be put at work within the next two weeks.

Former Premier Orlando, Premier Giolitti and president de Nicola, of the chamber of deputies, all tried but failed. The religious question has been a big issue in the possibility of a rapprochement between the Vatican and the quindini.
